The board was advised that Lot 5 in Block 6 had reverted to the title of Mrs. S. H. Kistruk and that henceforth the property would be assessable to Mrs. Kistruk, instead of S. Trono.

Mr. Wheatley was instructed to procure a table for the board chamber.

TRAMP LUSES LEG WHILE ATTEMPTING TO BOARD TRAIN

While attempting to board a moving freight train at a point some four hundred yards west of Blairmore station on Saturday evening, a man giving his name as Pat Hope fell under the wheels, which passed over his right leg, severing the member just below the knee. Apparently the train crew had not noticed the incident and knew nothing of it till the train had reached Coleman. Some passer-by on Main Street happened to notice an arm beckoning their attention and rushed to the scene, lending first aid until the doctors arrived. Doctors were immediately phoned for and in less than five minutes Drs. Olivier and Hynes were on the scene and had the man removed to the hospital, where upon examination it was found necessary to amputate the limb immediately above the knee. The amputation was effected successfully, Drs. Olivier, Hynes and Rose being in attendance.

The man states that his home is at Wintburn some fifteen miles east of Edmonton, and that his mother resides there. He was wearing a Maconic ring, though not a member of that order claiming to have won the jewelry in a poker game. His partner, giving the name of John Ward, was with him as far as Blairmore, but decided to walk to Crow's Nest, leaving Hope here to steal a ride. Ward was later arrested by the A.P.R. and lodged in the local barracks to stand trial, charged with stealing a ride from the C.P.R.

LADIES' AID ELECT OFFICERS

At the regular monthly meeting of Ladies' Aid of the United Church, held on Wednesday afternoon, nomination and election of officers for the ensuing year took place and resulted in the following:

President—Mrs. W. Howe, re-elected.

Vice-President—Mrs. F. M. Pinkney.

Secretary—Mrs. Donald McPherson.

Treasurer—Mrs. Robert Dicken.

Mesdames McDonald and Hamilton were re-elected as the flower committee and Mesdames McKay and Davis re-elected the visiting committee.

During the afternoon tea was served and an enjoyable hour spent discussing problems concerning the church's welfare.

A.P.P. OFFICER VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

In responding to a call from Hillcrest at about 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Constable Harry Hammond, of the local detachment of the Alberta Provincial Police, had the misfortune to collide with the boundary bridge, east of Blairmore, sustaining injuries that will lay him off for some time.

Approaching the bridge at a rather high rate of speed, the cycle lost its balance on the loose gravel and hit the end of the railing, smashing it and throwing Hammond headlong to the hard ground some twelve feet beneath. Occupants of an auto happened to look behind after passing the speeder and noticing the man's sudden disappearance, halted and returned to the scene and immediately reported to the police station. Help was on hand in a very few minutes. Hammond was found, although unconscious, to be suffering from a severe fracture of a leg and disfigurement of the face, a number of teeth being knocked out as well as considerable laceration of the lower lip. He was removed to the hospital, where he is now being cared for.

The motor cycle was very badly damaged by the impact.

J. W. Gresham is a business visitor to Calgary this week.

LOCAL HINDU IN THE TOLLS

In our last issue we mentioned that a local Hindu had been arrested and sentenced to thirty days in jail on the charge of supplying a juvenile with intoxicating beer.

Another case has developed, in which the Hindu has been charged with committing a heinous crime. He appeared before Magistrate Gresham on Friday night to answer the charge and was defended by Mr. Herchmer, of Fernie. Several witnesses were heard and the man was remanded for trial at the next criminal assizes.

CORRESPONDENCE

Blairmore, Alta., June 1, 1926
The Editor, Blairmore Enterprise,

Dear Editor—Will you kindly permit me to reply to the article which appeared in your issue of May 27th under the heading of "Communism in The West." Lately there has been a series of such articles published in the Manitoba Free Press, and I want to inform their fabricator that he is not familiar with the subject upon which he wrote.

I will briefly describe the purpose of the Ukrainian schools, so that your readers may know the truth: The Ukrainian Labor-Farmer Temple Association was incorporated in 1924 and is legally functioning under the laws of the Dominion government. It is an educational and cultural association and its aim is to teach the children the Ukrainian language, music, singing, drama, dancing, folklore and embroidery. The adults are being taught the English language. Besides, there are several clubs, such as sporting, choir, orchestras, dramatic etc., as well as modern libraries. This association is doing relief work among immigrants and other needy cases and is helping to minimize cases of immorality, drunkenness, illiteracy, and thus making the Ukrainians better citizens. Its constitution contains nothing of communistic nature. The textbooks are printed in a little insignificant republic, away from the influences of communism, and if compared with the English textbooks used in public schools, they differ only in the language.

The Canadian Labor Defence League has already taken steps to defend this association from such unjust attacks by the capitalist press. In the issue of 29th May, "The Worker" published two articles, which deal with the subject in detail, and I hope that the correspondent in the Manitoba Free Press will read them and acquaint himself with the facts. The official organ of the Communist Party of Canada, in that same issue, acknowledges that the Ukrainian Labor-Farmer Temple Association is not in any way affiliated with the communists.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for allowing me this space in your valuable paper, I am,

Respectfully yours,
THOMAS GUSHEL

HEY—DOC!

A Kansas printer got slightly peeved at a letterhead from a doctor who wanted bids on several thousand letterheads, different sizes, different styles and different colors, and wanted the printing form held standing. So the printer took his typewriter in hand and wrote:

"Am in the market for bids on one operation for appendicitis. One, two, or five-inch incision—with or without ether—also with or without nurse. If appendix is found to be sound, want quotations to include putting back same and cancelling order. If removed, successful bidder is expected to hold incision open for about sixty days as I expect to be in the market for an operation for gallstones at that time and want to save the extra cost of cutting."—Kansas City Post.

"Can you drive with one hand," asked the girl in a gentle voice.

"You bet I can," replied the young man, eagerly.

"Then, have an apple," answered the young creature.

DEATH OF THOMAS R. MARTIN

The death occurred suddenly at Macleod on Thursday evening last of Thomas Russell Martin, one of the best known of the legal fraternity in the province, at the age of fifty-six. Mr. Martin was one of the old timers of Southern Alberta and practiced law at Frank, Coleman and Blairmore for a number of years following the big Frank slide in 1903. He later moved to Macleod where he practiced in the partnership of McDonald, Martin & Mackenzie, the latter being Mr. D. G. Mackenzie, of Blairmore.

Funeral took place at Macleod on Saturday afternoon and was very largely attended. The Masonic brethren led the cortege from the residence to the church and from the church to the cemetery. The beautiful Anglican service was conducted by the Rev. G. McComas, rector of Christ church, at the church and cemetery, after which the Masonic brethren conducted the impressive last rites for the order for a departed member.

The pallbearers were: Judge E. P. McNeill, Calgary; Dr. Malcolmson, Edmonton; Dr. Allan Kennedy, Macleod; D. G. Mackenzie, Blairmore; C. A. Mercer and Arthur Young, Macleod. The legal profession was represented by Justice Ives, Calgary; Judge McNeill, Calgary; Judge Jackson, Lethbridge; Judge MacDonald, Macleod; Dr. Conybeare, Lethbridge; Roy Davidson, Lethbridge; D. Thomas, Pincher Creek; D. G. Mackenzie, Blairmore; J. W. McDonald, J. D. Matheson, J. L. Fawcett and Joseph Hicks, Macleod. Dr. Dubuc, John Herron and W. Hyde, old friends of the deceased, were also present from Pincher Creek.

J. W. Nicol, Lethbridge, brother-in-law of Mrs. Martin was the chief mourner and represented the family at the funeral services. The floral tributes, were many and beautiful showing the respect in which the deceased was held by his many friends and their sincere sympathy for Mrs. Martin, Miss Gwendolyn and Master Barney in their great loss by this sad bereavement.

OTTAWA OFFICIAL LOOKS OVER FISHERY POSSIBILITIES

Mr. Walker, inspector of fisheries, Ottawa, is in town this week getting first hand information on the fishery situation of this district and of Waterton Lakes National Park. On Wednesday, accompanied by Mr. J. J. Holmes, game warden; Dr. J. J. Gillespie, Mr. R. W. Morgan and Mr. W. A. Fraser, he visited the Lakes and adjacent fishing streams, with the object of locating the proposed hatchery. On Thursday forenoon they motored to well known streams in this district and the members of our local anglers' association and officers of the board of trade are much pleased with the favorable impression Mr. Walker gathered from the outings, he having concluded that this was one of the finest districts he had yet seen.

It is expected that a favorable report and further action in regard to the replenishing of the streams and brooks for the construction of a hatchery will be issued at Ottawa before long.—Pincher Creek Echo.

Nurse—"Do you want to see the little brother the stork brought you?"
Bobby—"Naw, I wanna see the stork!"

Sunday School Teacher—"Now each pupil will quote a Bible verse as he drops in his pennies."

Junior (after some desperate thinking)—"A fool and his money are soon parted."

Tourist: "Have you got a monkey wrench here?"

Cowley: "Naw, my brother he got a cattle ranch over there; my cousin he got a sheep ranch near Magrath; but it's the dern cold around here for monkey wrench. We only got a black silver fox ranch down near Medicine Hat."

"FAREWELL, BILL"

Long our treasure, you have been,
Your world does unaltered and unseen.

Your strivings for the Lodge so keen—

UNTIL

To you has come another call,
To leave your brothers one and all,
Whom such prospect does indeed appall.

STILL

Though you must leave this land of ice and snow,
Where mountains rear their heads and streams do flow;

Where balsam, spruce, poplar and cotton-wood grow,

FILL

Your mind with thoughts of Atlantic's shore;

The scent of the sea and the ocean's roar;

The shingle beach and the sea-folk's lore,

WILL

You remember those whom you have left,

Who of your presence are sore bereft,
Who say with one accord and bated breath:

"GOOD LUCK, BILL!"

Author—An Elk.

One of the most interesting gatherings for many a day took place at the local Elks' hall on Monday night, the occasion being the assembling of members of the Elks' lodge and the Blairmore Board of Trade to do honor to an honored member and most indispensable official in the person of W. A. Henderson, who was to leave on Wednesday night's train to take up residence at Ingonish, Nova Scotia.

Fully one hundred were in attendance, mostly "Bills." The chair was occupied by Mr. J. E. Gillis, the exalted ruler of the local lodge of Elks, who called upon the Upton orchestra for the opening item of a most interesting programme.

Following several songs by Messrs. R. W. B. Pinkney and J. R. Gresham, a piano solo by Miss Alice Hornum, a cornet solo by Mr. Rennie Steiner and three beautifully rendered selections by the orchestra, Mr. Gillis broached the main subject of the evening and in a very fitting manner voiced the sentiments of all Elks present by stating that they were losing their most valued official and member, and the community, two citizens we could least afford to lose. As a lodge member, Mr. Henderson had maintained the reputation of always being on time and never missing a meeting since the organization of the lodge in November, 1924. As treasurer, he has in a most capable manner sat on the treasury lid and much of the credit for the splendid financial position of the lodge is due to Mr. Henderson. At all times when any business whatsoever affecting the welfare of the lodge was to be considered, he was ever willing to lend assistance and, as stated by Past Exalted Ruler Gray, his name will be carried on as the real father of the local lodge.

Mr. Henderson had, in addition to his interest in fraternal affairs, always manifested a keen interest in any movement for the advancement and betterment of our community. Mainly through his efforts was the tourist campsite established here and much of his time has been spent in improving the grounds and entertaining visitors, and on many occasions have visiting tourists commented upon the lively interest taken in them by the treasurer of the Blairmore Board of Trade, Mr. Henderson.

Mr. Henderson has also been connected with other organizations, including the quarterly official board of the United church, and in every case his services were found to be invaluable.

Mrs. Henderson, too, during her several years' stay in Blairmore, has made numerous friends by her kindly disposition and willingness to assist in any effort for good. She has been connected with various church and society organizations and in an official capacity has performed good services. She organized a class of girls in connection with the local Ur-

PRESENTATION TO MRS.

W. A. HENDERSON

A very pleasant affair was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Burns on Monday afternoon, when the ladies of the local chapter of the I.O.D.E. were entertained by Mrs. Burns in honor of Mrs. W. A. Henderson, whose departure from Blairmore took place on Wednesday night. Tea was served to the ladies, Mesdames Pinkney and Howe doing the honors, and during the afternoon, Mr. F. M. Pinkney, as president of the I.O.D.E., made a presentation of a pair of lovely silver tankards to Mrs. Henderson and on behalf of the members made a few remarks, stating the regret which was felt in the departure of Mrs. Henderson from Blairmore. Mrs. Henderson was assured that she would be greatly missed from the membership of the local I.O.D.E. and other organizations of which Mrs. Henderson had always been a very active member.

lon church, which later formed the nucleus for what is now one of the strongest and most active C.G.I.T. groups in southern Alberta. She has also filled official positions with the I.O.D.E., Red Cross and other organizations.

The vacancies caused by the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Henderson will indeed be hard to fill. Following a very fitting speech, Mr. Gillis, on behalf of the Blairmore Lodge of Elks, presented Mrs. Henderson with a beautiful travelling bag, with the wish that both he and his beloved wife would live long years in abundant health and happiness, and all else good it was possible for us to wish.

Mr. Gillis then called upon Mr. Lance L. Morgan, president of the Blairmore Board of Trade, who also expressed sincere regret of the Board at the proposed departure of Mr. Henderson. He related the various works performed by Mr. Henderson in behalf of the Board and expressed the hope that in far away Nova Scotia he and Mrs. Henderson would make as many friends and even more that during their stay here. Mr. Henderson, he stated, had also sat continually on the lid of the Board's treasury, and he was pleased to state that since Mr. Henderson had taken over the reins of office as treasurer, the Board has always had a balance on the credit side. In closing, Mr. Morgan, on behalf of the Blairmore Board of Trade, presented Mr. Henderson with a beautiful case of pipes.

Other speakers were called upon and ably endorsed the sentiments already expressed, following which the guest of the evening was given an opportunity to respond. Mr. Henderson proved quite capable for the occasion. He thanked the Elks and the Board of Trade for gifts and for the many kind remarks of the various speakers. He would find the travelling bag a most valuable article at the present time. The pipes, he felt, would tend to keep him on the drag for a time also. He expressed regret at having to leave the community in which it had been their good fortune to reside for so many years and was sure that during their residence in the east they would ever recall the pleasant memories of times and friends here. They were not going for good, but figured on giving Blairmore a call, at least within the next five or six years. Both Mrs. Henderson and himself regretted having to sever their connection with us at this time. He was going to Ingonish, and understood that there was no lodge of Elks within visiting distance of that point as yet, and until a lodge was established so near that he could attend regularly he would retain his membership in Blairmore.

After the presentation, the orchestra, Messrs. Gresham and Steiner contributed a few more numbers. Refreshments were served, followed by a few community choruses and the singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" etc., and "Auld Lang Syne."

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson left by last night's train, a large crowd of citizens attending the depot to bid them farewell.

The Catholic ladies of St. Thomas' parish, Hillcrest, held a most successful tea and sale on May 29th. The winners of the drawing contest were of Poland on June 1st, Professor Ignatius, with No. 96; Madame Art, a postponent of his inauguration Mrs. J. Lipnick, with No. 33; doll, Mrs. Ed. D'Ercle, with No. 88. The Professor Mondick was returning to drawing for the carving set was postponed, as the return were not all in appeared before the arbitration court, at this time, and was travelling light.

The rolling stream of life goes on,

But still the vacant chair

Recalls the love, the voice, the smile

Of those who oft sat there.

Sleep on, dear husband, and take thy rest;

We miss you most who loved you best.

Friends are friends when they are true,

But I lost my best friend when I lost you.

Ever remembered by his loving wife and children.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Mr. Griffith has returned from Calgary, where she has been for the past several days.

Mr. Lionel Peel has gone to Calgary to join her husband, who has been there for a few weeks.

Fair weather still continues. The farmers are feeling the need of rain and unless rain falls within the next few days, conditions will begin to look serious.

Several of the local farmers are now placing large orders with the nurseries. They are making preparations for planting trees, shrubs, fruit trees and flowers in the spring of 1927.

Mrs. M. A. Murphy and Mrs. Harry Hanna have returned from Calgary, where they attended the convention of the Women's Institutes of Alberta. They report a very enjoyable, as well as profitable, time.

JUNE ROD AND GUN

In view of the increase in the popularity of Ontario and Canada generally with American tourists, the June issue of Rod and Gun, which is a special Ontario tourist number, is particularly interesting.

All stories and articles in the number, with the exception of the regular features, deal with Ontario sport, while a personal message from the premier of Ontario welcomes all tourists to the province and a special Ontario section describes some of the beauty, health, fishing and hunting resorts of Ontario.

A new aspect of angling is given in "The Jumbo Trout of Lake Superior," possibly the gem of the table of contents; while "Trout Fishing" is a delightful reminiscence of the creels of old Ontario.

The regular gun, fishing, outdoor and kennel departments contain specially interesting material for this issue.

Rod and Gun is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ontario.

"Now, Harold," said the teacher, "if there were eleven sheep in a field and six jumped the fence, how many would there be left?"

"None," replied Harold.

"Why, yes there would."

"No," he persisted. "You may know arithmetic, but you don't know sheep."

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Carden will issue debentures for $25,000 for a new high school building. The vote was 185 for to 76 against. The building cannot be completed this year, but it is the intention to have four rooms ready for use this fall.

A meeting of local Liberals will be held in the office of Gillis & Mackenzie tomorrow evening at 7:30, to appoint delegates to a Liberal convention of the Rocky Mountain riding to be held at the Palliser Hotel, Calgary, on Monday next.

Rev. Peter Bryce, of Toronto, former pastor of the Methodist church at Curling, Newfoundland, will likely be chosen by the general council of the United Church of Canada, which meets in Montreal in June, to be finance commissioner of the church in Canada. It would be his duty to organize for the raising of the yearly budget of $3,400,000.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Russell, of Coleman, was held on Sunday last, service being held in St. Paul's church. There was a large number of friends and sympathizers present to pay their last respects to a very estimable woman. The Rev. D. K. Allan spoke fittingly and feelingly of the deceased. The remains were laid to rest in the Union Cemetery, a large cortege following in cars and on foot.

On Saturday afternoon and evening next, the Orpheum Theatre are showing "Joanna," a melodrama that is guaranteed to suit all tastes. "Joanna" should prove interesting to those who are following up this story, which is now running in serial form in The Enterprise. On Saturday night a special attraction is offered, when Mr. Ralph Maddison, well known Canadian tenor, will appear in his singing novelty act.

Changes in spelling of 30,000 words are needed to make the English language phonetic, the American simplified spelling board reports. The board advocates one spelling for each of the forty-three sounds in the language, instead of 7.8 spellings per sound for consonants and 18.4 for vowels now in use. A committee has been selected to join a delegation from Great Britain in a conference at the Sequelent celebration in Philadelphia to make English an international language.

Here is a story all the way from Bucharest. A young civil servant bought some eggs for his evening meal. When he arrived home he found a rather blurred inscription on one of them: "I am twenty years old, fair, blue-eyed, with a rosy complexion. I wish to marry. If this egg comes into the hands of a nice young man I beg of him to write. Address—"

The young man hurried to the nearest post office and telegraphed the girl. Two days later he received a short reply by post: "Too late! I have been married four years and am the mother of a charming little girl. I am sorry."

Ralph Maddison, a Canadian, known as the "singing miner" and admittedly one of the greatest ballad singers in the profession today, entertained a large crowd of Masons last night at Dominion Park, when at the special request of the lodges represented he sang with Creator's Band. Maddison has been engaged in professional life for the past twenty years and possesses a tenor voice of great charm and strength. His solos last night were roundly applauded and his voice, strong in calibre and exceptionally sweet in tone, carried to every part of the great amusement centre. Maddison is widely known as a ballad singer and has, during the past twenty years, played over every recognized vaudeville circuit on the continent. The tremendous power of his voice is considered phenomenal. Maddison is now located in Montreal permanently and is conducting a booking office. He is a prominent Mason—Montreal Standard, August 18th, 1922.

The business people of Truro, Nova Scotia, have co-operated in a town booster scheme, in which they are supporting liberally a page in the Truro Weekly News, advertising the advantages and opportunities offered by that town and district.

The town of Stellarton, Nova Scotia, has offered the town of New Glasgow $5000 per year for a supply of water not to exceed 300,000,000 gallons, any quantity over that amount to be paid for at the rate of three cents per thousand gallons.

The Cole bill, under which state financial aid for schools is increased $40,000,000 annually and the support quota for each rural school district employing more than one teacher is increased from $450 to $500 a year, has been passed in New York.

Plans for the development of platinum claims on the northern border of Alberta involve the use of aeroplanes. One of these planes has already arrived in Edmonton and is being put into shape by those interested in the development of these claims.

"Shall school children be vaccinated or go to pick berries?" reads a heading in the Vancouver Province. If they are children in good health, make them sick, of course. The law must be enforced against the culprits, you bet—Okanagan-Commoner.

Dave Martin has an idea. He's a first water Scotchman and believes that the penny postage to Scotland will be in effect at St. John's several hours before the good privilege will be ours in the west. He purposes buying a ticket for Ottawa to reach there the evening of Wednesday, June 30th to write a letter to the wife on the morning of July 1.

I wish to thank the doctor for quarantining my family and me for three weeks recently because four of them had the whooping cough. During that time my wife caught up with her sewing, we had three square meals a day, as no one came in and she was not permitted to leave; we enjoyed three weeks of good nights' sleep, and, best of all, a cousin with four children who had arranged to visit us, saw the sign on the door and left town so scared she will never come back again. So for these and other blessings we are very thankful for the quarantine—Mr. Smith.

"You'll be sorry if you tell," warned 10-year-old Johnny Cochrane, of Fern, south of Stellarton, when his small brother said he would complain at home about a fight the two had in the barn. His brother did not heed him but went into the house, and when he came out half an hour later, Johnny was hanging by the neck from a rafter. One of the most pitiful things about it is that the boy was heard screaming loudly for about five minutes by the attendant of a grain elevator about a block away, but the man thought that perhaps he was being punished at home, and therefore paid no more attention to it.

There was a very successful sale of work held by St. Luke's Women's Auxiliary on Saturday afternoon last. There were five stalls all well patronized, and many visitors took advantage of the opportunity for obtaining afternoon tea. In the evening a whist drive took place, followed by a dance, both of which were a success financially and socially. The winner of the ladies' first prize was Mrs. Passmore; second, Miss Kidd, while the consolation prize went very won by Mr. Young, of Coleman, first, Mrs. Gillis, second, and Mrs. J. B. Wilson "carried off" the consolation prize. During the evening the names of the holders of the lucky tickets were announced, and were as follows: Red agreed, Mrs. Henderson, Hillcrest, brooch, Mr. W. A. Vaughan; gold bangle, Mr. J. R. Rae; pearl tie pin, Mr. J. Manchuk; gold tie clip, Mr. E. Upton. The W.A. wish to thank all who patronized their effort, and so helped to make the affair a success.

Mr. D. G. Mackenzie was a visitor to Macleod on Saturday, attending the funeral of the late T. B. Martin, his former law partner.

George Patterson is spending a few days' holiday here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Patterson.

George is now a globe trotter and has recently visited the Orient, but doesn't care much for the Happers there so is looking real ones over again and incidentally getting a few "squares" before embarking upon another trip.

Bill Lorne is bucking and feels positive he can prove to anyone that one can live a lot cheaper than two. He visited the St. Luke's ladies' sale of home cooking, etc., on Saturday night, and purchased a prize package for ten cents that contained a package of yeast cakes, some baking soda, half pound of rolled oats, package of chewing gum, some salt and pepper, a pound of flour and a toothpick. He says it's the last cent he will spend for eatables for a month.

Greenhill Temple No. 10, Pythian Sisters, celebrated their third anniversary on Friday night, May 28th, in the Lodge Hall. The hall was beautifully decorated with the colors of the order and large vases filled with lilacs were set all around the room. The programme consisted of an address of welcome to the visitors by the M.E.C., Sister Hales. The grand march was then led off by Sisters Gray and Fraser, followed by the cressian circle. Beautiful vocal solos were rendered by Laura Lord, Marion Ennis and Lena Fraser. Piano solos by Nellie Royle and Mary Gray were greatly enjoyed by all. The tables were beautifully decorated with lilacs and spread with everything good to eat, centered by a lovely decorated birthday cake, on which burnt three candles. After supper, Brother Wainwright, from Calgary, addressed the sisters on Pythianism, which was purely enjoyed by all. Speeches were then called for from different sisters and brothers. At midnight the birthday cake was cut and served with ice cream. About 2 a.m. all joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne." Everybody voting one real good time.

CONDITIONS BEST SINCE BEFORE WAR

Conditions generally in all parts of Canada are the best they have been since before the war, according to S. J. Hungerford, vice-president of the Canadian National Railway, who has just returned from an extensive tour of inspection of the system lines in the west. He states that there is a splendid spirit of optimism prevailing, which is fully justified by the prospects for a good crop and increased business, also a disposition to embark on new business ventures. Speaking of British Columbia, Mr. Hungerford reports a heavy volume of lumber going to both Canadian and United States ports on the Atlantic seaboard as well as to European ports via the Panama canal. Also, the indications are that the Pacific coast province will have the largest fruit crop of its history this year.

Kelly—"A royal flush comes only once in 649,739 times."

Frank—"Is that so; well then I am about due, as I have missed one at least 649,700 times."

He Took Chances

A judge in a western town had declared that he would stop the carrying of firearms on the streets. Before him appeared for trial a tough youth charged with getting drunk and firing his revolver in a crowded street. "Twenty dollars and costs," said the magistrate.

"But, your honor," interposed counsel for the prisoner, "my client did not hit anybody."

"Why, you admit that he fired the gun."

"Yes, but he fired it into the air," explained the lawyer.

"Twenty dollars and costs," repeated the judge. "He might have shot an angel."

Had a secret ballot been taken among the miners' wives, as Emmeline Pankhurst, writing in The London Sunday Express, the miners' strike would never have been called.

Next Generation Taller

Gain in Height and Weight Predicted By Nutrition Experts

Sons will outstrip their fathers in height and weight, and daughters will top their mothers by a generous inch or two in the opinions of two nutrition experts who attended the national health congress at Atlantic City, N. J. "Longer and stronger genes are some of the results of correct nutrition that we are beginning to observe in children's study, Miss Miriam Birdseye of the United States department of agriculture told the Associated Press.

"The gain of an inch in height and a corresponding gain in weight may be looked for in the next generation, because of our much better diet habits," said Dr. Samuel J. Crumlin.

What Future Will Show

The Japanese empire has a population of over 83,000,000. The growth is three-quarters of a million a year. Japanese papers refer to the fact that Siberia, Mongolia, Manchuria, and South America are open to Japanese emigrants, but the United States and Australia are closed to them. The opinion is expressed that the future will show which is the stronger—natural law or man-made legislation—Kingston British Whig.

German Professors Discover New Star

Ten Million Years Old and Brighter Than Sun

A new star has been discovered, an unsung star in the fourteenth magnitude, 4,000 times too faint to be seen with the naked eye, flashed up in a small spiral nebula which appears as big as a dime at a distance of 20 yards.

In reality, it is a star of 10 million times brighter than the sun, shining up in an island universe of almost 100,000 light years. "This means we are looking into the past of our distant cousin universe, for the cataclysm which gave birth to this new star happened 10,000,000 years ago, long before the glacial period on earth.

New stars are not a very common occurrence in the sky. The last one appeared in May, 1910.

This last one was discovered at Heidelberg, Germany, by Professors Max Wolf and Reinmuth. The good news was immediately wired to Copenhagen and thence to the Harvard observatory, the clearing house for astronomical news in America. Telescopes all over the country were pointed at the nebula and soon the existence of the nova was confirmed on plates taken at Harvard.

The Orphan Colt

Advice As To Feeding Young Colts From Time of Birth

Occasionally the mare dies at foaling time or has no milk for her foal. This presents a rather serious problem, but one that can be dealt with successfully if patience, vigilance and common sense be the keynote of treatment. It is especially worth while to know that every good draft foal Statisties show that "unless the rate of replacement, is increased above what it has been during the past two years, there will gradually decline in North America a decided decline in our horse population." Raising the "big kind with quality and this can only be done by good breeding and judicious feeding from colt-hood to maturity. The horse makes one-half of his weight during the first year of his life. The best substitute for mare's milk is milk from a cow and preferably from one yielding a low percentage of fat, according to Professor H. B. Sommerfeld, Animal Husbandry Department, Manitoba Agricultural College.

To one tablespoonful of sugar add warm water to dissolve; then 2 to 3 tablespoonsful of lime water and enough fresh milk to make a pint. Feed about one-fourth pint every hour for the first few days, always warming to blood heat. A satisfactory method of feeding the foal is to use an ordinary nursing bottle with a large nipple. Whatever utensil is used, it should be thoroughly cleaned and scalded before each meal. As the foal grows, the amount of milk may be gradually increased, the period between feedings lengthened and whole milk substituted. After a few days, six feedings a day will suffice and later, only four. At three to four weeks of age, the use of sugar may be stopped, but it is well to continue the lime water. In five or six weeks, sweet skim milk may be gradually substituted for whole milk and after three months the colt may be given nearly all it will drink three times a day. The bowls should move freely, but if it occurs, give from 2 to 4 tablespoonsful of mixture of sweet oil and pure castor oil shaken up in milk, stopping the feeding of milk for two or three meals, allowing instead, only sweetened warm water with lime water added. At the earliest possible age, the foal should be fed solid food, such as crushed or whole oats, bran and a little linseed oil meal and lopine hay. For exercise, let the orphan have the run of a lot or grass paddock.

Farm Help In Demand

About four thousand men have been placed on Alberta farms. This spring and the demand has not been fully met, so Walter Smith, commissioner of labor, reports.

IDEAL FASHIONS

Therefore, it must be practical, yet combine so well, a semi-formal charm for leisurely events. The model pictured here is a typical example of a sporty costume. It is smartly correct for either a morning of shopping, or an afternoon of bridge. The jumper shows a high, turndown collar, joined to a vestee with button trimming, and odd-shaped patch pockets that support a narrow belt. It has long set-in sleeves gathered to deep cuffs at the wrists. The skirt, attached to a body lining, is knee-length at the front only. No 1261 is in sizes 16, 18 and 20 years. Size 18 requires 1 1/2 yards 36-inch plain material for bodice; top 3/4 yard lining for bodice; top 3/4 yard lining for skirt; 2 1/2 yards 36-inch figured material, and 3/4 yard plain contrasting. Plan Jack Miner League of Canada

To Honor World Famous Naturalist and Conservationist

A movement for the honoring of Jack Miner, world famous conservationist and student of animal life, has been started by Essex County for the organization in every community of the Dominion of the Jack Miner League of Canada.

The object of the league is to interest more people in the study of natural history, plant life, reforestation and conservation of the wild bird life on the continent.

A bird sanctuary Mr. Miner conducts at his home in Essex County is known as the home where all birds may find shelter.

Canada's Cold Supply

The time is rapidly approaching when domestic fuel cannot be obtained from across the border whether Canadians wish to import it or not. The country's interests demand that under these circumstances, independence of that source of supply should be assured by the encouragement of the industry within our borders—Edmonton Journal.

Some men admit that they are sold made, while there are others who blame it on their wives.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JACOB AND ESAU

Golden Text: Be ye kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, even as God in Christ forgave you, Ephesians 4:32.

Lesson: Genesis 25:19-34; 26:34 to 35; 27:1-28:17.

Devotional Reading: Matthew 6:9-15.

Explanations and Comments

Jacob's Fear of Esau at Mahanaim, 27:1-4—On his return journey to the land of his fathers (see the Historical Background), Jacob reached the spot he named Mahanaim in Esau's territory. He deemed it politic to acquaint Esau of his arrival. The messengers sent ahead for this purpose, returned with the startling news that Esau himself was on his way to meet Jacob accompanied by four hundred men. Jacob was panic-stricken, and good reason had he to be so; naturally he thought that Esau was coming to avenge the wrong he had received at his brother's hands. Jacob was face to face with the consequences of his past.

You never are done with a sin until it is out in the light and forgiven. Psycho-analysis may have what persons it will, it makes some things certain: that a man's sin, that he can have a few qualms of conscience, that he can hardly himself and forget that he can thrust his sin down into the hold of his subconsciousness and shut the latches on it and sail on, but if he thinks he has with his sin just because he has crushed it down into his subconsciousness, he is mistaken. He is not through with it. That sin is at work still, terribly at work tearing away at the bases of his personality. We Christians preach for centuries have been saying that no man ever gets through with a sin until it is out in the light and forgiven. The reality given to that fact now by science. You never are done with a sin until it is out in the light and forgiven" (Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick).

United States Sitting Tight

Debtor Nations Are Having Hard Time to Make Payments

Perhaps some day Uncle Sam may feel benevolent enough to follow the policy of Great Britain, succumbing the Napoleonic wars, by which enormous continental debts were cancelled, but in the meantime he is sitting tight and the debtor nations are trying to devise ways of making payments. They cannot pay in goods because of the United States tariff walls. To raise gold they must undersell Uncle Sam in other markets, which is difficult. And if they sell there they must also buy in other markets, thus shutting out United States imports. Goods, which would not contribute to leniency on Uncle Sam's part—Toronto Globe.

See Its First Automobile

Donagel Village Flags Flies in Honor of Occasion

This little old-world hamlet in the county of Donagel is celebrating the appearance of the first automobile in its midst. In honor of the occasion all the residents hoisted flags.

There are numerous villages in the British Islands which are still living peacefully in the days of long ago, unmarked or marred by outward show of modern progress, but comparatively few can boast of avoiding the march of the automobile.

Engine Driving Exciting

When driving a locomotive the engineer and the public have many more thrills than the public knows of. Motor cars, pedestrians, broken rails and stalled trains provide so much excitement for those in charge of the engine that investigation shows most men of the thrills go gray between the ages of thirty and forty—New York Times.

Fruit Growing In B.C.

Representatives of nurseries working in the various fruit districts of Southern British Columbia, report splendid business for young stock during the spring months. The Coldstream Ranch, in the Vernon district, recently planted seventy acres in new fruit. Such indications augur well for the future of the fruit growing industry of this province.

Can Record Message

Sent To The Brain

Discovery Made By Professor Adrian

of Cambridge University

By experimenting with the apparatus used in the reception of wireless, Dr. E. D. Adrian, F.R.S., of Cambridge University, England, has evolved an instrument which makes it possible to record the messages that travel along the nerve centres to the brain.

The instrument has three tubes, an amplifier which magnifies the nerve messages 2,000 times, and a photographic plate. The tubes receive the messages as they would receive wireless waves. The nerve messages are recorded on the photographic plate in the form of dots and dashes.

Explaining his discovery, Dr. Adrian says:

"If we touch the skin or prick it with a pin each nerve fibre which is stimulated sends a message to the brain in the form of a series of small electric oscillations called nerve impulses.

The impulses in each fibre are so small that until the advent of wireless it was impossible to detect them, although we knew what they were like from other lines of work. The tube amplifier has made it possible to magnify several thousand times, and the impulses can be recorded by a special instrument called a capillary electro-motor, which traces the electric changes on a photographic plate."

Sir Henry Thornton Optimistic

Expects C.N.R. Will Soon Be Placed On Paying Basis

In an address at the annual banquet of Canadian National employees at Toronto recently, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the system, said that before long, sooner than most people think, the National Railways will not only be self-sustaining, but will also return a profit to the public treasury. Sir Henry also commented on the growing regard in which the public was holding the service of the system and attributed the achievement of this goodwill to the loyalty of the employees.

This year's International Show at Chicago, Nov. 27 to Dec. 4, will have a new class for swine carcasses of bacon type, the first of its kind for the big show. The management has also restored the class for Ham-bone-let rosters.

Airship experts predict that within ten years we may have 400-ton airships, each of which will carry 1,000 men, with equipment equal to ten carloads of freight.

CHAPTER VI. Re-enter Brandon

As a rule Joanna ran up the stairs that led from the first floor of the rooming house, once a pretentious residence, to the second floor, where she occupied a one windowed room made by a flimsy partition across what had been the dining room of more glorious days. But Mrs. Adams, who sat quiet still in her chair in the drawing room only, was something that Joanna walked up, slowly, this time. She heard her open her door and close it softly, carefully. Usually Joanna slammed her door with a bang and a song.

Mrs. Adams examined her $500 note, turned it over and looked curiously at the yellow back. Now it clearly that she might read the various engraved assurances that it was a solemn symbol of $500 real money. And she looked at the figures in the petty book as if she were counting all over it. But she seemed to be detached. There always had been a soft spot in Mrs. Adams' heart for Jo. Somehow this soft spot was hurting just now. Her eyes lit upon the bundle Joanna had kicked into a corner. That was like Jo. She'd have kicked all over it, but she contained anything that had been supplanted by something new. The landlady regarded this bundle with something troublesome gathering in her eyes. She got up laboriously. Besides the flowers she sent down the $500 note. Then she went over to the corner and picked up the package.

For a time she held the cumbersome parcel in her arms, standing down at the painstakingly inspected the card and unwrapped it. She folded the wrapping paper neatly and put it down. Then she held up the coat and let it open. This had been Joanna. The very breath of her, the gent and the presence of her. It was initiation for her, but good enough to her purpose. Its lines had the swag, even if its lining was only mercerized cotton.

CARRIED OFF TO BE WIFE TO BED

Suffered So She Could Not Walk. Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mining, Ontario. "I am a practical nurse and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to suffering women. I was almost helpless and could not sit at the table long enough to drink a cup of tea. My husband's hand carried me to bed. I would be so weak. Then he read in the paper of a woman suffering as I was. I got better after taking the Vegetable Compound, so he went and got it for me. When I had taken the first bottle I was just like a new woman and had had splendid health ever since. When I feel any bearing-down pains I always take it; sometimes a half bottle or whatever I need. It is my only medicine and I have told many a woman about it. Any one wanting to know more about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, please write to her. I do all I can to recommend it for I feel I owe my life and strength to it."—Mrs. H. B. BOWERS, R. R. 1, Mining, Ontario. Do you feel bearing-down, nervous, and weak sometimes? Do you have this horrid feeling of fear which sometimes comes to women when they are not well? Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is excellent to take at such a time. It always helps. It is taken regularly and persistently will relieve this condition.

Made Knight Of Legion Of Honor

Former Cook in Canada Described by France For War Service

Joel Bourget of Brittany, who gave his life for his country in the war, has been made a Knight of the Legion of Honor by the French Government. When the war came Bourget was a cook in Canada and had a wife and three children. He took the first boat home and enlisted in the infantry, having an old score to settle with the Prussians since his father lost a leg in the 1870 war. He was wounded twice one morning, but stuck to his post until the day's fighting was over. He was twice awarded the Croix de Guerre for his bravery in this action.

perhaps there were no medals hanging on her wall, but she was so in wishing her mother and father were with her could go to them today. They'd give her a medal to give her an argument, of course, about sticking up to the knees and stockings so that that her legs showed through and about some other things, but she could look them straight in the eyes just the same. It would be no splendid if they, or one of them, could be here now!

This climax to her reflections and her memories of the picnic occasion revived the glow in the slim, eager body. There wasn't anybody to share with her, except John, so she decided to just let it go at that. He'd help her, too, to reason out something about the thing that happened to her. She, by herself simply couldn't.

By late afternoon, what with some hours scrambling into and out of her taxicab, she was ready for her dinner, upon the silk counter. She tried to forget that logical detail of the day, but couldn't. Courageously she had alighted the shops and where where girls of the counters and offices got their copies of evening modes. She boldly went onto the avenue itself, even into the upper section, where to be admitted as a patron is an award of honor which, earned, brings a marvelous deference and where she was called "Mademoiselle". The result fell upon the silk counter as a sudden breath of some exquisite narcotic that sweeps the senses into appalling ecstasy.

Joanna had timed her visit cleverly; she appeared during the lull between the lecherous shoppers who fall early and the last minute crush of the hurrying, belated ones. Traffing behind a spacious grande dame who was threading her way through the crowd, she suddenly stood at her old counter, only on the other side of it. Her gray-gloved fingers tapped sharply on the polished wood, in onyx imitation of the department buyers. With her roguery dancing out of her eyes at every face before the counter—the faces of her workday friends—she parried sweetly.

"Good morning, young ladies!" At that moment Joanna's voice was the silver chime of ineffable inner harmonies.

Since patrons sitting at the counter turned curiously to scan the newcomer. In the attitudes of the girls who served them they sensed a drama. It was Georgia, Joanna's best friend and also one of Mrs. Adams' flappers, who was first to break the silence.

"Look what the clerk's dropped!" "Then there was a rush," Joanna without ceremony, oblivious to customers with bellows of vari-colored silk in their hands, stepped back for inspection and swung around for inspection.

Biggest Single Printing Job

Getting Out New York Telephone Directory is Real Work

The printing of the New York Telephone directory is the biggest single publishing job in the world. It now takes between five and six weeks to simply distribute the books to the 960,000 regular subscribers. As soon as one issue is finished, work is started on the succeeding edition. The publication requires a force of more than 500 men and a fleet of automobiles, wagons and even puppets. Despite the fact that the paper used is, from time to time, improved to save weight and bulk, the last issue consisted of two volumes, weighing nearly five pounds. It has 1,920 pages with 330,000 listings. In many instances subscribers get several copies so that the total edition consists of 3,000,000 directories, requiring 600 carloads of paper.

U. S. President's Creed

Public Men Could Do Worse Than Take Advice of Goeldie

President Coolidge is not a notable speechmaker. But on the occasion of his first inaugural as governor of Massachusetts he gave this as his creed:

Expect to be called a standpatter. But don't be a standpatter. Expect to be called a demagogue but don't be a demagogue.

Don't hesitate to be as revolutionary as silence. Don't hesitate to be as reactionary as the multiplication table. Don't expect to build up the weak by pulling down the strong.

Don't hurry to legislate. Give administration a chance to catch up with legislation.

Which is not a bad one for a public man.—Ottawa Citizen.

INDIGESTION BANISHED

Through the Timely Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

The urgent need of all who suffer from indigestion is a tonic to build up the blood. Pain and distress after eating is the way the stomach shows it is too weak to perform the work nature intended it to do.

New strength is given weak stomachs by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, because they make for a healthy lining of the stomach.

This is the natural process of giving strength and tone to the stomach and securing a healthy lining of the stomach.

Weakness of the stomach is the cause of many of the ailments that follow the use of these pills. Proof of this is given by the fact that the stomach is the source of all the ailments that follow the use of these pills.

Mr. Wm. H. Kelly, 212 East St., Kingston, Ont., who says: "I cannot recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly. I had been bothered with indigestion in a chronic form for almost ten years. Everything I would eat would turn sour. I felt as though I was eating a stone. I was so weak and tired many, many dollars, but to no avail. One day I heard a lady praising Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided to try them. I am more than glad I did, for soon I found relief, and after taking the pills for a couple of months the trouble disappeared, and now I can eat all kinds of food, and have gained my old-time health and strength."

If you will send your name and address to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., a little book, "What to Eat and How to Eat," will be mailed to you free of charge. This book contains many useful health hints.

You can get these pills through any mail order dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Peace River Homesteads

Homestead entries at the Peace River land office for the year ending March 31, 1925, show an increase of 50 per cent. over those of last year. Land sales for the year also show an increase, while the revenue derived from land patents, timber and grazing permits is far in advance of any previous year. During the nine years the Peace River office has been open, only one year—1917-1918—exceeds the past year in homestead entries.

Searching For Traces Of First Immigrant

Anthropologist Believes Clue Can Be Found In Yukon

A search for the first American immigrant—the oldest inhabitant and the ancestor of the Indians found by Columbus—has been started by the Smithsonian Institution.

Dr. Alex Hrdlicka, National Museum anthropologist, has started for Alaska, scene of the finish of the flight across the North Pole, to search along the shores, coasts and the tundra for a few bits of pottery and bones, to prove scientifically the belief that the first American came from Asia.

Hrdlicka set out for the Yukon, where legends still are told among the Eskimo of battles between Asians and the Eskimos, terrible struggles for the right of way past the fishing grounds that furnished livelihood to primitive man.

Hrdlicka thinks the ancestors of the first American crossed the Bering Strait, fifty miles wide at its narrowest point, and worked their way down the coastal plains into the temperate zone, where the warm climate caused many immigrants to develop the various tribes of "Americans."

Bits of pottery have been found in Alaska. The Eskimos who now make up the total native population do not make pottery. Through discovery and study of other specimens of pottery, bones and primitive implements, Hrdlicka thinks he has found a clue to the first victors who probably came just after the glaciers receded.

Ancient Indian Relic

Stone Axe of Early Days Found on Ranch in Saskatchewan

While H. E. Dimmock was riding over his ranch near Thompson, Sask., he picked up a stone axe, evidently an old Indian instrument of warfare or a very useful cutting tool of the early days. It is about nine inches long, double blitted, with one edge about three inches across, and the other blunted off to a rounded shape. Around the centre of the axe are two rings, or ridges, raised about one-quarter of an inch. It is supposed, according to an old-timer's viewpoint, that this axe, and others similar, were inserted into a split in a small sapling; the sapling being secured with bark and pitch between the two rings, which allowed the wood to grow around the axe, which made it very secure. After the sapling had grown to the proper size, it was cut off about two inches below where the axe was embedded, and again cut off on the other side of the axe, about 20 inches from the axe head, making a strong, non-breakable handle, while the axe head could not possibly loosen, as it was secured grown about by the wood. This relic was found on the northern slope of the Cypress Hills, about nine miles south of town, and is quite an interesting specimen of Indian stone craft.

Banish The Blues

By Observing Nature's Basic Rule

Those who suffer from despondency, listlessness and headaches can usually trace the cause of these conditions to constipation.

They are frequently brought about by overwork, nervous strain, lack of outdoor exercise or sleep, or improper food, but more frequently by the non-observance of nature's basic rule—regular thorough bowel elimination.

Toisons from waste matter left behind are picked up by the blood and absorbed by the system, weakening the nerves and lowering the vitality.

Najid, the scientific internal lubricant, corrects constipation in nature's own way by augmenting the supply of nature's lubricant.

Najid by softening the waste matter thus permits thorough and regular elimination without overtaxing the intestinal muscles. It is gentle, safe and natural in its action, and can be taken for any length of time without any ill effect.

Ask your druggist for Najid today and remember—look for the name "Najid" in red on bottle label and package.

Prince Has Simple Tastes

Heir to British Throne is No Lover of Magnificence

Many a wealthy young peer looks with a shade of disdain upon the simple apartments which the Prince of Wales occupies at St. James' Palace. "The truth is," says the London Mail, the Prince is no lover of magnificence. Had he wished, he could, of course, have set up a great country estate, something in the style of Burleigh-on-the-Hill, near Oakham. But he prefers to be unencumbered.

It will Relieve a Cold—Colds are the commonest ailments of mankind and if neglected may lead to serious conditions. Dr. Williams' Eucalypti Oil will relieve the bronchial passages of inflammation speedily and thoroughly and will strengthen them against subsequent attack. And as it eases the inflammation it will usually stop the cough because it allays the irritation in the throat. Try it and prove it.
